*revolutionary new
imaging solution
for skin care
professionals*

A revolutionary new solution for professional skin care consultation, the Reveal™ Imager delivers Canfield's advanced facial imaging technology for offices of any size and budget. Reveal uses the same Canfield proprietary RBX™ Technology employed in research laboratories and high-end skin care practices. With RBX, skin care professionals can detect subsurface vascular (Red) and melanin (Brown) conditions and develop highly targeted treatment recommendations. With an easy-to-use and easy-to-learn interface anyone in a skin care office can take professional, repeatable facial photographs.
